

COLLEGIATE CATTLE GROWER'S

2012 JACKPOT SHOW

SPONSORSHIP AGREEMENT

The Collegiate Cattle Grower's Association is a student-run organization for individuals interested in the beef and livestock industries. We strive to provide students with hands-on, educational opportunities to further their knowledge of livestock and also host educational experiences for the community. One of our educational experiences is an annual jackpot show held for youth in Arizona and the surrounding states. Last year, we hosted over 175 exhibitors who exhibited close to 200 head of livestock and we were proud to award over $7,500 in prizes. We are hoping to double our numbers in both exhibitors and prize money this year. The 2012 show will be held February 18 and 19 at the U of A Campus Agricultural Center in Tucson. This event will feature cattle, sheep, goat and hog shows that will take place in two rings with two different judges; this allows the exhibitors to have the chance for double prizes and participation points. However, our show is not possible without the help of sponsors. We hope you would like to participate in our event through sponsorship in the form of monetary donation or donations of show supplies/products. All sponsorship funds directly benefit the club and will be used to purchase prizes for this specific event. The best part about donating is not only to help provide a memorable experience for kids, but it is also tax deductible for your company! Listed below are four different levels of sponsorship as well as an explanation of how you will be recognized for your support. If you have any questions please do not hesitate to contact Jessica Zamudio (520) 221-1992 at jmzamudio1@email.arizona.edu or Hillary Hibbard (602) 989-2757 at hhibbard@email.arizona.edu.
