Friday, October 24, 2008

Nina Brackett from the University of Arizona Mohave County Cooperative Extension School Gardening Program assisted Manzanita Elementary second-grade teacher Nancee Black with a hands-on lesson about "Cotton" on Oct. 15. Black was a "School Forestry" workshop participant with the University of Arizona Mohave County Cooperative Extension. She also received additional training from the Summer Ag Institute where she visited many farming communities down in Maricopa and Yuma counties. The students listened to "The Story of Calvin Cotton," which explains one aspect of the farming community and the importance of cotton. Mohave County School Gardening Program is funded by the University of Arizona, Mohave County Cooperative Extension Office and the Mohave County School Superintendent's Office.
