

Demonstrating Best Management Practices on Piggeries in the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands

L. Duponcheel and C. Eversen

Demonstrate to sustainable agriculture operators the benefits of incorporating animal wastes as amendments to existing fertilization regimen for local cropping systems. The project will provide outreach to local farmers with the intent of demonstrating the agronomic value of animal waste amendments. This will encourage environmentally responsible behaviors in respect to the disposition of small-scale animal operation wastes. Demonstration will be accomplished by means of pilot site and local cooperator instruction.
