

About the Authors

Cathy Cromell is an Instructional Specialist at Maricopa County Cooperative Extension. She practices organic gardening and is a certified Master Entomologist and Master Composter. Her background is in publishing.

Linda A. Guy is a member of the Arizona Herb Association and the International Aromatherapy and Herb Association. Her gardening interests include growing herbs and studying their use in herbal remedies. She assists with garden and landscape projects at her children's school.

Lucy K. Bradley is the Urban Horticulture Agent for the University of Arizona Maricopa County Cooperative Extension in Phoenix. She is responsible for school gardens, community gardens, the Master Gardener program and other urban gardening programs. Previously, Lucy coordinated the Phoenix Coalition for Youth and Families, working with public agencies, nonprofit organizations and schools to address the needs of inner-city children.

Acknowledgements

We would like to thank the following people for generously sharing their time and their knowledge of desert gardening with us:

Arizona Herb Association: Mike Hills, Kirti Matura and Mary Rider

City of Mesa Water Resources Division: Donna DiFrancesco

City of Phoenix: Kent Newland

Flower Gardener Extraordinaire: Cindy Smith

Maricopa County (Arizona) Master Gardeners: Cheryl Czaplicki, Roberta Gibson, Frank Martin, Erin O'Dell and Annette Weaver

Maricopa County Cooperative Extension: Carolyn Chard, Sharyn Hosier, Joanne Littlefield, Cathy Munger and Cathy Rymer

Permaculture Drylands Institute: Brandy Winters

The University of Arizona: Terry Mikel, Commercial Horticulture Agent; Kai Umeda, Vegetable Crops Agent; and Deborah J. Young, Associate Director, Programs

Wild Seeds: Rita Jo Anthony

